

THE COMPLETE INTRODUCTORY NETWORKING COURSE MC-2400

The Complete Introductory Networking Course is a great introduction to the world of computer networking. This introductory course explains how computers exchange data and share resources, how communication protocols work, and the rules that govern computer networks worldwide.

UPDATED!

Not Just a Simulation! Hands-on Labs Use the Following Equipment:

- SOHO AP/Routers
- Cable Stripper & Crimpers
- Ethernet Connectors
- Network Interface Controllers
- Cable Testers

Marcrafft's Complete Introductory Networking Course covers these topics:

- Interfaces
- Cabling
- Network Types
- Topologies
- Protocols
- Network Devices
- Cable Testers
- Network Administration
- Network Backup Strategies
- Troubleshooting
- AND MUCH MORE!

Real-World Hands-On Labs!

Designed for 24 Students Working in Pairs (Requires 12 PC Workstation Computers)

INCLUDES:

- MC-2400 The Complete Introductory Networking Course Equipment Package
- MC-240TEXTLAB 12 Complete Introductory Networking Course Text/Lab Guides
- MC-240IG Instructor's Guide with Digital Media (1 Per Classroom)

ACCESSORIES:

- MC-240TEXTLAB Additional Complete Introductory Networking Course Text/Lab Guides
- MC-240EXT 4 Additional Stations with 2 Additional Books